INTRODUCTORY.

In submitting to the public the sixth volume of the AKRON CITY DIRECTORY, and the first including a Directory of Summit County, the publishers feel confident that it will be received with as much favor as has been accorded to the previous issues

The present volume shows an increase in the alphabetical portion of the work of 110 pages, while the total number of names is 10,063

After making a liberal deduction to allow for the duplication of firm names, etc , we find that, calculating by our usual method, viz , adopting the multiple 3, Akron has at the present time a population of fully 30,187 These apparently large figures are accounted for thus In making the annual canvas we do not confine ourselves to the corporate limits of the city, as is the custom of directory publishers in other cities, but include the entire suburbs, which contain not only a number of manufacturing industries, but the residences of a large number who work at the various shops in the city, and whom we consider ourselves justified in counting as part of Akron's population In conclusion, we congratulate our fellow citizens on the continued prosperity of the city, which is everywhere evidenced by the number of new enterprises which have been started within the last year, and the continued activity in building operations We are contented to let the volume rest on its merits, and take this opportunity of returning thanks for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon the work

Cleveland, Akron and Columbus R'y,

Has some of the Finest Scenery in the State, on its Line, and is popularly called the Blue Grass Route of Ohio

HIGH-BRIDGE GLENS, CUYAHOGA FALLS OHIO

Extract from the Official Report of the inspection of the C , Mt V & D. R R , made Sept 11 and 12, 1882, by Lieut Geo. Ruhlen, Professor of Military Science at the Ohio State University, to the Hon. H Sabine, Railroad Commissioner.

'No road in the State that came under my observation this summer shows such marked improvement as does this In addition to the work done on the structures to make them secure for the traffic of the road, extensive improvements of a permanent character have been made These are all of a high standard of strength and superior in design and manner of construction to structures of the same kind and for the same service which were made a few years ago —thus recognizing in advance the requirements of the continually increasing weight of engines and freight loads"

AKRON SEED STORE.

ESTABLISHED 1878.

110 W. Market St., Hall's Block, cor. of Canal St., AKRON, OHIO.

SEEDS. THE AKRON SEED STORE is now generally known in the city and country as the best place to buy

GARDEN, FLOWER AND FIELD SEEDS.

PLANTS. It has also an established reputation for supplying superior

VEGETABLE AND BEDDING PLANTS, and furnishes many thousands of Cabbage, Celery, Cauliflower, Tomato and Pepper Plants, as well as large numbers of Geraniums, Fuchsias, Coleus and other plants for House and Lawn

AKRON HOME MARKET.

We believe that Akron should have a good Market House, and while the matter is being discussed and re-discussed and likely to end—for the present—in nothing but talk, we will endeavor to give our customers all the advantages of a market house by using similar methods

FRUIT. We propose to make a specialty of Fruit—especially Small Fruits and Vegetables We shall handle Small Fruits—as they ought always to be handled—in small baskets, not in a shallow tray with a flat paddle

VEGETABLES. For the present we shall handle home-grown vegetables, because many vegetables, though entirely wholesome when used in a few hours from the gathering, undergo a change in a few days which makes them entirely unfit for food In the future when we can make arrangements with Southern growers to ship us so that we can furnish their products within twenty-four hours from the gathering we may vary our programme

NO DELIVERY.—We shall imitate the methods of the market house in this particular If our customers will do their own delivering we can afford to make prices such as will pay them to bring their baskets and take their purchases home with them, as they would from a market house

Grateful for the liberal patronage which our Seed enterprise has received, we trust that the AKRON HOME MARKET may deserve and obtain as liberal patronage Respectfully, AKRON, O., July 2, 1883. O. S. WARNER.

FOUNDED 1866.

CHAUTAUQUA LAKE.

"I come
To this sweet place for quiet Every tree,
And bush, and fragrant flower, and Hilly path, and thymy mound that Flings unto the winds its morning
Incense, is my friend "

HISTORY OF THE LAKE.

THE CONNEWANGO, OUTLET OF LAKE CHAUTAUQUA

The first authentic account of the discovery of the Lake is to be found in the Diary of Father Bonnecamps, who accompanied the French Explorer, De Celeron, from Lachine, Canada, to the Ohio, and is a rare and almost inaccessible narrative It was on the 23d of July, 1749, that De Celeron's expedition reached this region, and the first sight of Chautauqua dawned in its beauty on the white man The explorers had made their way from the neighboring shores of Lake Erie with difficulty through the wilderness and over the mountains, carrying their canoes and baggage until the head of the Lake was reached Here their flotilla was launched, and the expedition re-embarked

They passed over the entire length of the Lake, and in the evening encamped near the outlet, which leads to the now flourishing city of Jamestown The next day their journey was continued through "Connewango" Creek, thence into the Allegheny, finally reaching La Belle Riviere, their objective point, whence it is unnecessary to pursue their fortunes further

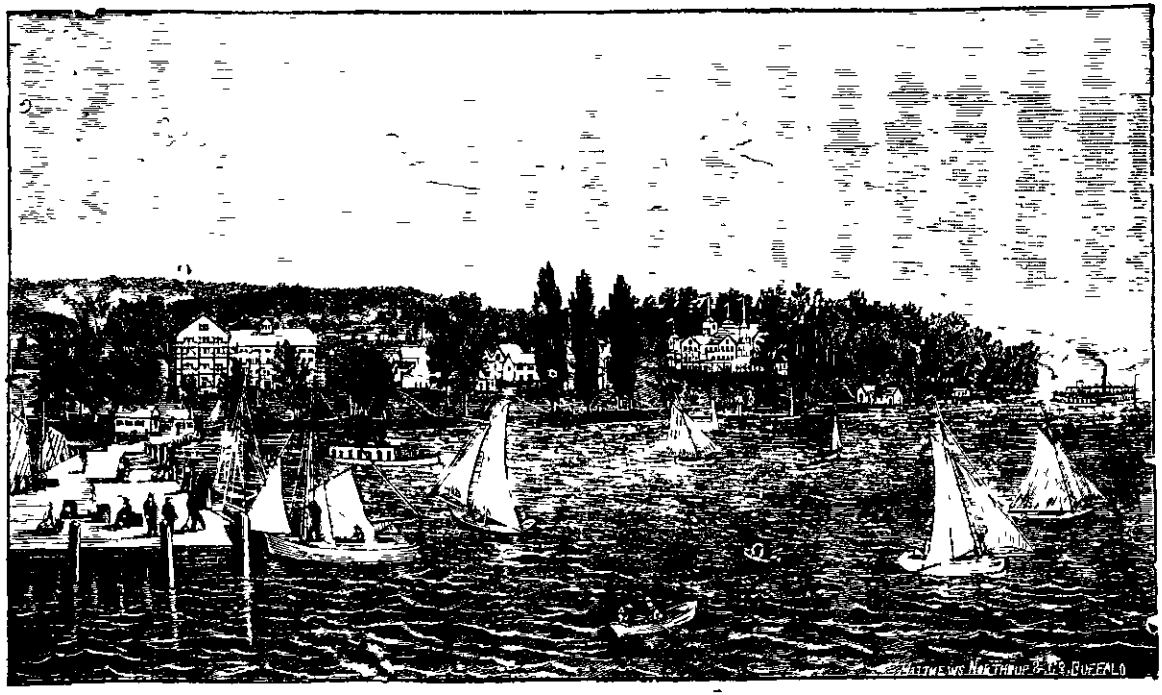

CHAUTAUQUA AS IT IS.

At the sound of the word what a train of recollections are called up to the minds of the many thousands in all portions of the land, who, for the past decade or more, have made yearly pilgrimages to this far-famed resort in search of health, of pleasure, of social enjoyment and of scientific research Nature has indeed been lavish in the bestowal of her choicest gifts on this favored spot Located in the extreme western portion of the State of New York, midway between the Atlantic and the Mississippi, at an altitude of seven hundred and twenty-five feet above the surface of Lake Erie, and some fourteen hundred feet above the level of the sea, lies this beautiful sheet of water It communicates with the thriving city of Jamestown on the East by an outlet known as Conewango Creek, and on its western shore lies the city of Mayville, the capital of Chautauqua County In length the Lake is some twenty-three miles, varying in width from five miles to one-half mile, the "narrows" at Bemus Point being the latter width It is the highest navigable water on the Continent, and its altitude ensures absolute purity of air, so impregnated with ozone as to prove a veritable panacea for the overstrained and the overwrought

Here diseases of a malarial character are an unknown quantity, and Hay Fever wings its flight at the first "whiff" of the fragrant breezes

Much has been written and said as to the origin of the word "Chautauqua," we will but remark, en passant, that it is universally conceded to be a euphonious corruption of the Indian "Ju-du-qu-a," meaning "bag tied in the middle," the Lake viewed from the surrounding hills having a remarkable resemblance thereto" The Lake has no inlet, but is fed bountifully with the purest and coolest of waters by living springs beneath its silvery surface, finding an outlet through the creek at Jamestown, thence to the Allegheny river, by which it reaches the Ohio, then joining the Father of Waters at Cairo, through which it finally reaches the Gulf, from whence by that mighty and mystic force of nature it is wafted to the clouds to again bless the land from whence it sprang

It has been demonstrated clearly that those who have attained the most enviable and marked positions in the various pathways of life, are

LAKEWOOD, N Y, ON MAIN LINE OF THE NFW YORK PENNSYLVANIA & OHIO RALROAD, Midway between Cincinnati and New York

those who have spent at least a moiety of their time away from the scenes of their daily toil, in the pursuit of healthful recreation and social enjoyment

Nature is a most exacting creditor, and he who borrows from her rashly must meet her payments promptly or pay the penalty she inflicts That penalty consists of the various forms of nervous diseases, softening of the brain, and the thousand and one kindred ailments which are induced by long and persistent application to one pursuit, be it at the desk, the counter, the pulpit, the bench or the laboratory, and the only legitimate method of paying nature's debt, and avoiding her penalties, is a periodical change of climate and a short but absolute rest from mental strain and labor To those in search of such change of climate and rest from the labors of the year, various matters must be taken into consideration, among which we may enumerate the following

1st The climatic change sought for must not include too radical a change in the temperature, otherwise the very object sought to be attained may not only be defeated, but positive injury may ensue It avails nothing to the resident of the "Sunny South" to spend his Summer vacation in the far North, or amid the bleak and penetrating winds of the cool seashore, a too great climatic change being experienced on his return in the Fall

2d A point should be selected which is easily reached in comfort, and is in daily communication with the outside world What one of us is there, that for years has battled with the busy world, could content himself while isolated from all mankind, and out of the reach of our greatest blessings—the Press—the Mail—the Telegraph To thus isolate the average man of business, even for the short space of a week, would be to reduce him almost to the verge of insanity, therefore, in the selection of a locality to "brace up," this fact should be borne in mind

3d The seeker after health and sound rational enjoyment and exercise should select a place which not only "fills the bill" in that respect, but admits of him or her "roughing" it to any extent desired A member of the sterner sex should not feel it incumbent upon himself to have a suit of clothes for every day of the week and two for Sunday Neither should the necessity exist for the ladies to make a change of apparel before every meal You are in search of healthful recreation and enjoyment. Throw the exacting conventionalities of the busy seaside watering places aside, and place yourself in direct and absolute communion with Nature

Lakewood meets this and more All the passenger trains of the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio Railroad, with their palatial Pullman cars, pass Lakewood daily from the East and West, and South The location of Lakewood is a peculiarly happy one, for a more beautiful spot could not be found The depot is within a convenient distance of the Lake, which latter is reached by a gradually sloping velvet lawn Here are picturesque cottages by the score, erected by Chautauqua enthusiasts, the little church with its spire pointing up to an unclouded azure sky, the great hotels with their cool and shady verandas, and the sparkling Lake in the foreground, all of which combine in forming a scene which would defy the brush of a Turner to reproduce on canvas

Chautauqua at this point is about a mile wide, the opposite shore is an ideal farming country, with rich pastures and grain fields on the slope of the hills Looking up the Lake, we see Long Point in the hazy distance, beyond which is Fair Point and the Camp Grounds of the National Sunday-School Association, and down the Lake we see the beginning of the outlet, where it narrows gradually to a winding stream, with forest on either side

The Drives around Lakewood are also a source of peculiar enjoyment, and many very striking views of the Lake may be obtained in this way. The entire surroundings of this charming spot are largely in its favor, while the fact that it is made the point for the arrival and departure of trains on the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio R R, must always make it easily accessible to the visitor The Road, in establishing its station at beautiful Lakewood, had not only an eye to the picturesque attractions of the place, but to the comfort and convenience of passengers, who are landed from the trains right in the heart of this beautiful country, within a few steps of its most commodious and attractive hotels. This fact is not to be overlooked in any estimate of the advantages of Chautauqua, and it is duly appreciated when, after a journey from the West, the traveler finds himself at once comfortably housed in the very center of the region he wishes to visit

The Lakewood hotels are the best known in this region, and deserve special mention

The Kent House has long been a favorite hotel for Chautauqua visitors It is immense in size and fronts 500 feet on the lake It is four stories high and has wide piazzas around each story Some idea may be gained of the size of the house and the preparation for guests from the fact that the grand dining room is 175 feet long This hotel is equipped with everything that is demanded for comfort and luxury, and is not excelled by any of the houses at the older resorts It has entertained more guests than any other house on the Lake, some of whom come back year after year to enjoy its excellent social privileges, and its admirable cuisine

The Lake View House is admirably situated on the immediate shore of the Lake in a natural grove, with carefully kept grounds on either side It has wide verandas and balconies for the upper stories, from which you have charming views for miles around The side nearest the water has a glass front, inclosing a large inner court, which is used as an assembly room, where promenading and dancing is the order of the day and night, and this again has a gallery around three sides, from which the visitor can watch the parties below, and at the same time enjoy the full benefit of the view and the breezes from the Lake

The rates at the Kent and Lake View are $12 to $17 per week, and when it is considered that both hotels set excellent tables, and furnish all the modern conveniences, and have every appliance of comfort and luxury—gas, bath-rooms, electric bells, telegraph and telephone, the prices demanded are certainly reasonable enough Letters to the proprietors should be addressed, Lakewood, Chautauqua County, New York

If you want to camp out, places without number are at your disposal at almost any point on the Lake Select a level plot of land on its borders, bounded on three sides by woodland, and pitch your tents Here you can enjoy boating and fishing, alternated with hunting and excursions into the surrounding country Should this become irksome after a few days, call your boats into requisition in the evening, and row to Lakewood, where, at the hotels, you can mingle with the throng, and, should you be a follower of the Muse Terpsichore, you may secure a fair partner, and "trip the light fantastic" until you would fain return to your tent Many prefer camping out, and roughing it in this way to putting up at the hotels, and while we would not recommend every visitor to

BEMUS POINT AND THE "NARROWS," VIEWED FROM LONG POINT

Purchase tickets to Lakewood or Jamestown, N. Y., by way of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio Railroad, thence by steamer the Lake to camp out, we will say that should camping out be on the programme, no lovelier spot, or one more adapted for the purpose, can be found than Lake Chautauqua

THE LAKE.

Let us, in imagination, make a circuit of the Lake We have risen early and left our hotel at Lakewood for a short walk along the pebbly beach, and the pure and refreshing air has so tickled our appetites that we have even astonished ourselves at the ample justice done to the many good things provided for breakfast After a glance at the New York and Cincinnati papers, which reach Lakewood in less than twenty hours after leaving the press, we betake ourselves to the dock at the rear of the hotel, where a scene of bustle and activity presents itself The good steamship "Jamestown" (just arrived from the city from which she derives her name) is panting and snorting like a thing of life, as though impatient to be off

The shrill whistle sounds, lines are cast off, the ponderous machinery is set in motion, the steamer's band strikes up a spiriting air, and amid the waving of hundreds of handkerchiefs, swan-like we gracefully steam out from the wharf, with our prow pointed for Bemus Point Yachts (both steam and sail) almost without number are darting hither and thither, and, in soft cadence across the waters, we hear the merry songs of their light-hearted occupants The air is pleasantly cool, and each inhalation seems a blessing It is not until the middle of the Lake has been reached that the bewildering beauty of the scene can be realized On all sides the land rises in a gentle slope Here is forest and woodland, cottage and farm-house, with cultivated fields as far as the eye can reach, drooping foliage on the margins, all of which, with its variety of color, makes an ever-changing panorama of loveliness which challenges the admiration of the beholder As we pass Martha's Vineyard, we view the Camping Grounds of the Mahoning Club of Youngstown. Their cannon belches forth a salute on the early morning air, which is answered loud and long, amid the waving of handkerchiefs, by our steam whistle

A few miles further we come to a narrow promontory, around which we glide, and are soon moored to the dock at Bemus Point Rows of stately poplars mark the landing, from which, by a short ascent, the Chautauqua Lake House is reached, almost adjoining which is the new Lenhart House Here, too, within a short radius, are numerous farm-houses, where limited numbers of guests are entertained during the season, where they regale themselves with cream, butter, cheese, etc , for which this section has so justly become famous This is the headquarters of the hunter and the fisher—Whitney's Bay, bounded on the east by the promontory before referred to, and on the west by Long Point, being well stocked with black bass and the royal muskallonge Leaving Bemus Point, we run past Long Point, and suddenly emerge on a broad expanse of water, the western end of the Lake, on the ripples of which the sunbeams sparkle and dance as if in play, forming a scene of scintillation that must be witnessed to be appreciated A short run to the southern side of the Lake, and we are at the landing of the "Chautauqua Assembly Grounds," a short sketch of which may not be inappropriate.

The famous "Summer School" and "Assembly" was organized here in 1874, and holds its tenth annual meeting in July and August of the current year It is a vast educational, religious and recreative institution, and the "Original" of all modern assemblies Its moral atmosphere protects and builds up both parent and child Here is freedom without license, and recreation without harmful amusements Its society is, in the highest sense, refining, and the educational influences are manifold The grounds cover some one hundred and thirty acres of the choicest woodland, beautifully laid out in parks, drives and walks Here is to be seen a model of the Holy Land lying on the shore of the Lake, (which for this purpose represents the Mediterranean Sea,) a model of the Jewish Tabernacle, a model of Jerusalem, a sectional model of the great Pyramid, a Museum of Sacred and General Archæology, and numerous other matters of universal interest, in the presence of which the Biblical student can, in spirit, traverse the land sanctified by the presence of our Savior

Here is an auditorium capable of seating 3,000 people, and a new Amphitheater which will accommodate 6,000, the Hall of Philosophy in St Paul's Grove, the Children's Temple, the Chapel, the Norman Pavilion, etc , etc

The grounds and buildings will be refulgent with the electric light. In this, as in all matters concerning the comfort of visitors, the management has placed itself in the lead

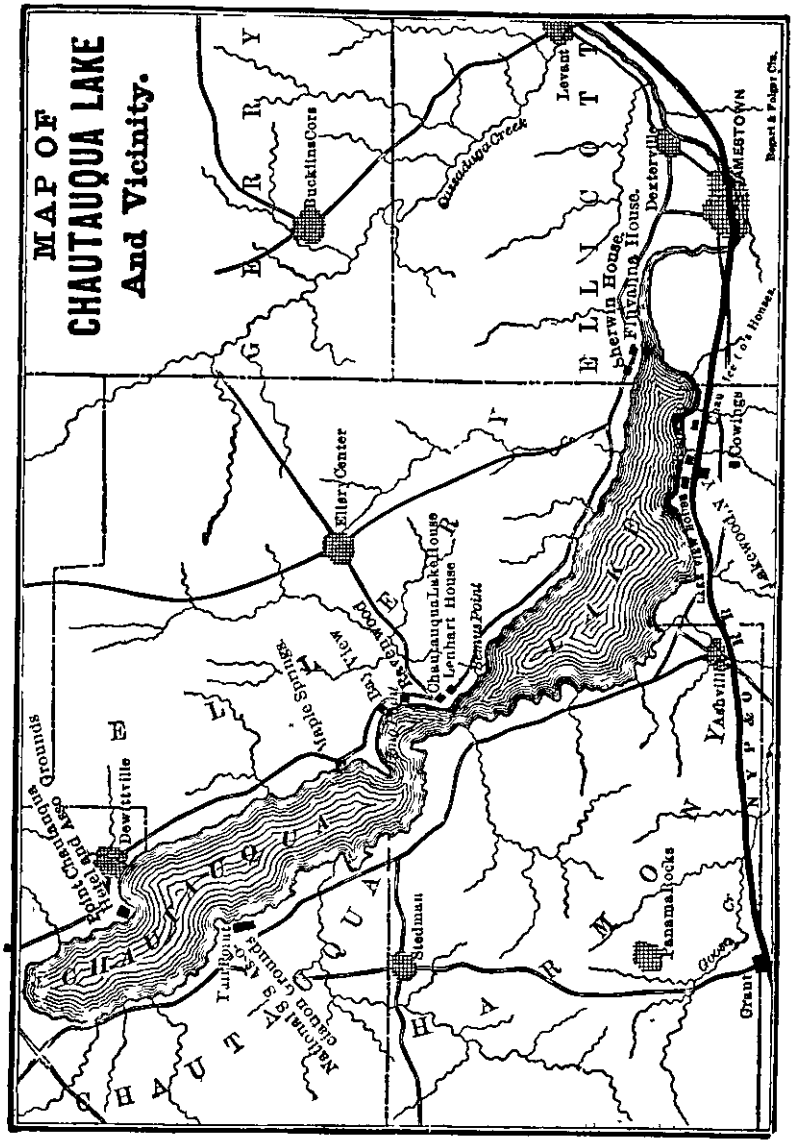

The attractions for 1883 embrace the annual session of "The Chautauqua Teachers' Retreat," "The Chautauqua School of Languages," "The Foreign Missionary Institute," "The Chautauqua Musical College," "The Chautauqua School of Theology," "Annual Session of the Chautauqua Sunday School Assembly," and the various meetings connected with the "Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle," the "Look-Up Legion" and the "Chautauqua Young Folks' Reading Union" A "Chautauqua Summer School" for children will be organized, to be taught by the most accomplished instructors in the United States, which, together with Lectures, Concerts, Class Drills, Stereopticon Exhibitions, Fire Works, etc , etc , will not only furnish an intellectual feast which cannot fail to gratify even the most exacting, but instruction and entertainment will be so blended as to satisfy the cravings of all

Boarding may be had at reasonable rates, and fine cottages rented for the season, either entire or by rooms, as also tents of all sizes A Government Post Office has been located on the grounds, as also are offices of the American Express and Western Union Telegraph Companies. The Hotel Athenæum is located within the grounds, and is presided over by General Bolly Lewis, a gentleman of vast experience in the business Its splendid parlors are connected with broad verandas fronting and near the Lake, and possesses dining room capacity for some 600 people at a sitting The internal and external arrangements are complete and perfect

We re-embark, and a run directly across the Lake lands us at Point Chautauqua. The Baptists hold their annual meetings here in July. The Point is beautifully situated, and commands exceptionally fine Lake views for miles around in every direction The Grand Hotel at this point is elegant in all its appointments, and is possessed of all modern improvements The grounds are beautifully laid out, and an abundance of delightful cottages are in the vicinity where good board can be secured

From the Chautauqua Assembly Grounds to Point Chautauqua is a short and pleasant sail directly across the Lake Many of the visitors take advantage of this, residing on the Point during their stay at the Lake, and making daily pilgrimages to the Assembly grounds Steamers and yachts cross every few minutes, and the charge for ferriage is but nominal.

To LAKEWOOD (or Jamestown, N Y.) AND RETURN

Tickets for sale at all offices on line of road and throughout the South and West

A short run of four miles brings us to Mayville, on the extreme western shore of the Lake The town is built on a hillside and extends down to the water's edge. The ridge on which the city is built forms the great water shed for this region, from the top of which a view of Lake Erie is had, extending as far as the eye can reach A glimpse of the setting sun from this eminence is one long to be remembered

Returning to the steamer we pass the Chautauqua House, kept by Horace Fox, one of the most genial and successful hotel proprietors on the Lake

We again take the steamer and return to Lakewood, after which we cross to Fluvanna, which is the oldest settlement on the Lake The land has an elevation of about fifteen feet above the water, and stretches away until at the distance of a mile back a considerable altitude is reached The Fluvanna House is the pioneer hotel on the Lake, and has recently been remodeled and enlarged by its proprietor, Mr H A Whittemore, who, from his own farm on the spot, furnishes an abundance of fresh vegetables and dairy products

On leaving Fluvanna, we sail directly for Connewango Creek, through which we reach the city of Jamestown This is the outlet of the Lake, and is a charming winding passage of some three miles in length It is narrow and tortuous, and in its general appearance forcibly calls to mind the far-famed bayous of the Lower Mississippi and Florida The early explorers described it as "a narrow stream, winding through a deep morass, bordered by a tall forest, which, overarching the way, almost shut out the light of day" The trees and foliage droop down to the water and almost interlace their verdant arms from either side A more picturesque spot cannot be imagined The steamer moves along carefully, occasionally almost touching the banks, and at intervals blowing the whistle to discover its proximity to vessels that may be on the other side of the various bends You are not at any time far removed from the farm houses, and cottages have been built along the shores, yet so dense is the foliage that you are apparently shut in to rejoice in solitude over the beauty of the scene

CLIMATE.

The direction of winds in this region is from north and west, and they bring with them a cool and bracing atmosphere from the highlands which stretch from beyond the source of the Mississippi to the Rocky Mountains In passing over Lake Superior, Lake Huron and Lake Erie these winds receive but slightly increase of temperature, and the air they bring becomes freed from dust and is charged with moisture in its long journey over the water of the great lakes Thus purified, it passes over the mountain ridge and sinks into the Valley of Chautauqua, the purest air upon the continent It is this pure and invigorating atmosphere, playing upon one of the most beautiful sheets of water in the world, that is offered as a balm for your irritated and enfeebled lungs, for the oxygenizing of your impoverished blood, and for the building up and strengthening of weakened bodily functions during the heated season Here you may escape miasma, mosquitos, fevers, cholera, dyspepsia, and duns Here you may free yourself from your hay asthma, your ague chill, your liver complaints, and find a balm for lowness of spirits

Here you may fish and fowl, sketch and ramble, scramble and paddle, sail and sing, and drink from the purest and most crystal of springs, eat the finest fish, spring chickens, beef, lamb, bread, butter and cheese to be found upon the continent

These are the great and overwhelming advantages offered in recommending the banks of Lake Chautauqua as your summer residence

Come and sojourn upon its grassy banks, tread its beautiful landscapes, wander in its cool, mossy groves, sail upon its rippling bosom, breathe its pure elastic air, and feel the languor of disease departing and the thrill of returning health in your veins Come, and you will be amply repaid in the renewed lease of life it will give you

Coventry Township.

Town 1, Range 11, is bounded on the north by the city of Akron and Portage Township, on the east by Springfield, south by Green and Franklin, and west by Norton Township There are numerous small lakes in the Township, the principal one being Summit Lake, through which the Ohio Canal runs A remarkable feature of this lake is that while there is no visible inlet there are outlets at each end, the northern emptying into the Gulf of St Lawrence, while the southern passes to the Gulf of Mexico Vast beds of bituminous coal are everywhere found, particularly at Thomastown At New Portage are located the works of the Portage Strawboard Co, one of the most extensive in the country The New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio, and the Cleveland, Akron & Columbus railroads both run through the Township, which has an area of taxable lands of 17,046 acres First settled in 1806

Twinsburgh Township.

Town 5, Range 10, was named after twin brothers, Aaron and Moses Wilcox, of whom it is recorded that in early life they so resembled each other that few could tell them apart They married twin sisters, had an equal number of children, held all their property in common, looked alike, thought alike, wrote alike, were taken sick on the same day, with the same disease, died the same day, and were buried in the same grave The Township is bounded on the north and east by the lines of Cuyahoga and Portage Counties, respectively, south by Hudson, and west by Northfield The Connotton Valley Railway runs through, and has a depot at Twinsburgh, the only village of note in the Township It is particularly adapted to grazing, and excels in its cattle, butter and cheese Taxable area, 15,945 acres
